

FREE GIFT

Fabric & trims suppliers.

Where to buy the cloth and the hardware once you decide to make your own pieces instead of buying them ready made.

The step after buying ready-made.

Sooner or later most resellers want their own product. That starts with fabric and trims. These three are small, old-school suppliers in Merter, and this short list is my gift to you.

Every entry gives you

- The supplier name and the district they trade from.
- Instagram and Telegram, as clickable links. Tap the handle and it opens.
- A photo of the business card I was given, which usually carries the phone number and street address.

How to open the conversation

Message on Telegram or WhatsApp rather than email. Keep the first message short: say what you sell, roughly how much you buy, and ask for the current catalogue. Photos travel better than descriptions. Many sellers work through translated messages, so plain sentences get further than polished English.

Before you commit

Ask the minimum order per style before you fall in love with anything, request a sample where the order is large, and agree who arranges cargo. Suppliers usually recommend a shipping company they already work with, and that is normally the easier route.

If something stops working

Suppliers move, change numbers and occasionally close. If a contact in this file is dead, message me and I will send you a replacement.

Found something good?

Tell me how it went. I keep these lists alive from what buyers report back, and a dead contact reported today saves someone else a wasted week.
